

MEETING THE PROJECT MANAGEMENT CHALLENGE

2004

Biography

Kenneth J. Winter, C.P.A.

Chief Financial Officer (CFO), NASA Langley Research Center (LaRC)

Mr. Winter has been the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) at the Langley Research Center (LaRC) in the United States National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) for the past several years. His career includes 30 years of professional experience with four Federal agencies at headquarters, field and overseas locations. His education includes a Bachelors degree in Economics and a Masters degree in Business Administration (MBA). He is also a Certified Public Accountant (CPA).

Employment 2000 - Present Chief Financial Officer

- NASA Langley Research Center, Hampton, Va. 23681
- 1994 - 2000 Deputy Chief Financial Officer
- NASA, 300 E Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20546
- 1989 -1994 Deputy Chief Financial Officer
- Department of the Treasury, U.S. Mint, Wash. D.C.
- 1986 -1989 Computer Specialist
- Dept. of Defense, Office Secretary of Def., Pentagon
- 1974 -1986 Systems Evaluator & Auditor/Management Analyst
- General Accounting Office, Boston, Ma., Germany & D.C.

Experience Mr. Winter's professional experience involved executive, managerial and technical expertise in a variety of areas. For example, Mr. Winter:

- managed financial operations totaling over $14 billion per year,
- accounted and reported on critical National assets valued at $90 billion,
- streamlined operations with related savings while enhancing service,
- directed hundreds of professionals in diversified workforces,
- managed timely, organizational financial and performance reporting,
- received unqualified audit opinions and awards on financial reports,
- reviewed and improved complex billion-dollar information systems,
- developed professionals through part-time college teaching college,
- managed cost accounting for nation-wide manufacturing operations,
- directed multi-million dollar financial system projects,
- managed profitable product pricing for $400 million in annual sales,
- managed key audits, investigations, testimony & reports to Congress and
- developed business/technical expertise (MBA/CPA) thru part-time study.

Education Dates Subjects Provider

- 1974 - Present Accounting, Systems & Audits Various entities D.C.
- 1979 - 81 & 88 Accounting & Information Sys. Community College (Va.)
- 1975 - 1978 Business Administration Suffolk University (Ma.)
- 1970 - 1974 Economics (Mathematics Minor) Univ. of New Hampshire

Other 1974 - Present Periodic public speaking and publications

- 1974 - Present Numerous awards, including Agency & Presidential awards
- 1983 - Present Certified Public Accountant (CPA) (Virginia & D.C.)
- 1983 - Present Member American Institute of CPAs (AICPA's) 1995 - Present Certified Government Financial Manager (CGFM)
- 1998 - Present Member Association of Government Accountants (1974-86)
- 1999 - 2002 Member Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board

NASA Project Management Conference